BOYS THREW GUNS AWAY

After Being Placed in Columbus Jail.

DETAILS OF ROBBERY

Of Fogelson Shop Told in the Probate Court.

Youthful Burglars Enter Shop by Use of a Skeleton Key—Boys Released

The details of the robbery of five revolvers from the Fogelson repair shop, at the rear of the Stoll Shoe store, were released Tuesday morning in the juvenile court with Judge Foster on the bench.

It developed that Willie, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Esser of Pearl street and Devere, the fourteen year old son of Mr. William Knickle of the Boulevard, entered the shop Saturday night, using a skeleton key. They secured two revolvers.

On Sunday they gave the key to Earnest Helwig, aged 14, Paul McNare aged 11 and Verne Gamble, aged 11, who first attended Sunday school later entered the repair shop, stealing three revolvers, and then beat it for Columbus intending to leave home forever.

The boys first went to the Knickle home and while there they swapped revolvers with young Knickle and young Esser. The Knickle and Esser boys refused to leave home with their friends.

As stated in yesterday's Mirror the three boys were arrested in Columbus about four o'clock Monday morning. They had been sleeping in a box car and getting cold went into the Union Station where they were arrested by a patrolman.

When taken to the city prison they were not searched and were allowed to roam about the corridors. Knowing that the revolvers would be found on them sooner or later they dropped them through one of the prison windows into the waters of the Scioto below.

The local police believed that they were implicated in the burglary of the Fogelson shop and confronted with the facts they admitted their guilt and told of the parts played by the Esser and Knickle lads.

COLUMBUS COMPANY

Secures Contract for Building New Chemical Wagon

At a meeting of the Public Safety board Tuesday, the Seagrave company of Columbus was awarded the contract for constructing a new chemical hose wagon for the West End fire department. The company's bid was $1945.

The other bids were $1885, made by the Robinson company, of St. Louis, and $2235, made by the American La France company of New York. The bid of the Robinson company was lower than that of the Seagrave company but the latter included a much larger amount of supplies and equipment for the wagon. The new wagon will be rubber tired and will be a much finer wagon in many ways than the one used at the Central department. It will be delivered to the department within ninety days.

What the Doctor Says.

"We don't allow in our profession that hearts are broken, but there is such a thing as taking so little interest in life after some great calamity that a man is unable to keep up his end against the attacks made from time to time by the enemy."—R. E. Verne in "Meriel of the Moors."

OPENING EXHIBIT of SPRING FASHIONS '07

WEDNESDAY TO SATURDAY

March 20-23.

Many of you have been delighted to see some bright, new dress goods or charmingly fashion suit, or perhaps, the latest French corsets unpacked as you were here—for the new goods have been trooping in constantly for 6 weeks now.

Now Wednesday is the Opening Day of our Big Fashion Show—the Spring Opening—a time at which a cordial invitation is extended to every woman to come and inspect this marshalled array of the newest, most distinctive spring styles.

It is with no little pleasure that we bid the public come and see with their own eyes, how successfully our store has again demonstrated its superiority. How it has gleaned from Eastern, Western and Foreign markets distinctive, beautiful and uncommon styles for woman's adornment, in no meagre measure.

Thus for four days, Wednesday until Saturday, this store holds its big semi-annual reception, gladly showing all the season's authentic fashion tendencies, alike to those who come to buy or merely look. You are all equally welcome.

While the new merchandise is the big attraction, there has been no slighting of the lesser features. The musical program, the rose and chrysanthemum, souvenirs and the attractive store decorations.

Taken all in all, it's an interesting and instructive exhibit which you cannot well afford to miss.
